

Liberty Travel's 2011 Travel Preview

With the New Year just weeks away, Liberty Travel has launched a promotion that offers a peek what they're offering in 2011, including new trends, new favorites and an exciting new cruise ship.

Topping the list are Liberty Travel's new vacation packages to Hawaii, which are designed to make booking a Hawaii vacation easier for travelers who want to visit more than one island. What's included varies from package to package, but a typical example would be the "Spirit of Aloha" package, which includes three nights in Oahu, three nights in Maui, three nights on the Big Island, inter-island flights and roundtrip airfare out of New York. Of course, travelers can still work with a Liberty Travel Vacation Expert to create their own Hawaii vacation.

Also included in the 2011 Travel Preview is Planet Hollywood Resort & Casino, which Liberty Travel identifies as a new favorite in Las Vegas. Set on the world-famous Las Vegas Strip, the attention is rightfully deserved. The hotel boasts stylish accommodations, the casino sprawls three acres, the calendar is loaded with VIP events and entertainment, plus there are pools, a spa by Maranda, restaurants, lounges and direct access to shopping at the Miracle Mile Shops.

The Caribbean has been a much-reveled destination for decades (and shows no signs of going out of style), but the tiny island of Aruba has recently been gaining increased attention for its year-round great weather, not to mention its stunning beaches and fabulous resorts. With a desert climate and set outside the hurricane belt, it is the perfect Caribbean island for any season in 2011.

Last but not least there is the Allure of the Seas, the second ship in Royal Caribbean's new, cutting-edge Oasis Class. Travelers who enjoyed last year's record-setting Oasis of the Seas will find a similar onboard experience, with seven unique onboard neighborhoods, and activities that include climbing, zip-lining, and surfing. Exclusive to the ship is the brand new DreamWorks® Experience and the bragging rights that you've sailed on the biggest cruise ship on the world—Allure of the Seas is actually two inches longer than Oasis of the Seas.
